14.2 The aforementioned recipients will always process the received personal data in accordance with this Privacy notice.

15. Period of data storage

15.1 When storing your personal data, Renson takes into account multiple data storage periods. The exact storage period for each processing purpose is specified in Table 3. Overview of Processing purposes.

D. Your rights as a data subject

16. Access

16.1 The Data Subject is entitled to information about the processing of data performed by Renson. To the extent that the information can not be found in this Privacy Notice, he/she can always contact Renson through the coordinates in art. Error! Reference source not found..

17. Rectification

17.1 The data subject shall have the right to obtain from Renson without undue delay the rectification of inaccurate personal data concerning him or her. Taking into account the purposes of the processing, the data subject shall have the right to have incomplete personal data completed, including by means of providing a supplementary statement.

18. Data portability

18.1 You have the right, within the boundaries of the Privacy Regulation, to receive the personal data which You provided to Renson, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and have the right to transmit those data to another Renson without hindrance from Renson, where the processing is based on

- Your consent, or on
- The performance of a contract to which You are a party or Your requests prior to entering into a contract, and the processing is carried out by automated means.

18.2 In exercising Your right to data portability pursuant to paragraph 18.1, You shall have the right to have the personal data transmitted directly from one Renson to another, where technically feasible.

19. Withdrawal of consent

19.1 If the processing of Data is based on Your consent, You have the right to withdraw Your consent at any time, especially but not limited to the processing of special categories of personal data in accordance with art. 8.1.

19.2 Any withdrawal of consent does not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal nor the lawfulness of processing on another legal basis, as e.g. the performance of a contract to which You are a party.

20. Restriction

20.1 You have the right to obtain from Renson a restriction of processing where one of the following applies:

- You contest the accuracy of the personal data, for a period enabling Renson to verify the accuracy of the personal data;
- the processing is unlawful and You oppose to the erasure of the personal data, and You request the restriction of their use instead;
- Renson no longer needs the personal data for the purposes of the processing, but You require them for the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims;
- You object to processing pursuant to article 21.1, pending the verification whether the legitimate grounds of Renson override those of the data subject.

20.2 Where processing has been restricted under paragraph 20.1, such personal data shall, with the exception of storage, only be processed with Your consent or for the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims or for the protection of the rights of another natural or legal person or for reasons of important public interest of the Union or of a Member State.

20.3 If You would have obtained a restriction of processing pursuant to this article, You shall be informed by Renson before the restriction of processing is lifted.

21. Objection

21.1 Under the circumstances described in article 12, §1, of the Privacy Act and article 21(1) Privacy Regulation, You have the right to object, on grounds relating to Your particular situation, at any time to processing of Your personal data based on on Your consent or on the legitimate interests pursued by Renson or by a Third Party, including profiling based on those provisions.

21.2 Renson shall no longer process the personal data unless Renson demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override the interests, rights and freedoms of You or the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

21.3 Where personal data are processed for direct marketing purposes, You have the right to object at any time to processing of Your personal data for such marketing, which includes profiling to the extent that it is related to such direct marketing.

22. Erasure ('right to be forgotten')

22.1 You have the right to obtain from Renson the erasure of personal data concerning Yourself without undue delay and Renson shall have the obligation to erase personal data without undue delay where one of the following grounds applies:

- Your personal data are no longer necessary in relation to the purposes for which they were collected or otherwise processed;

- You withdraw Your consent on which the processing is based according to article 19.1, and where there is no other legal ground for the processing;
- You object to the processing pursuant to article 21.1;
- Your personal data has been unlawfully processed;
- Your personal data has to be erased for compliance with a legal obligation in Union or Member State law to which Renson is subject;
- Your personal data has been collected in relation to the offer of information society services directly to a child.

23. Exercise of rights by the data subject

23.1 To exercise any of the rights stated in this article, the User may contact Renson by means of

- a postmarked and signed request;
- an email;
- a request through our webform.

The communication coordinates of Renson can be found in article 6.1.

23.2 The information will be made known to the User without delay and in all instances not later than one month after receipt of the request. That period may be extended by two further months where necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of the requests. Renson shall inform the data subject of any such extension within one month of receipt of the request, together with the reasons for the delay.

23.3 Any communication or any actions taken under articles 16 to 22 shall be provided free of charge. In performance of art. 16.1, Renson shall provide a copy of the personal data undergoing processing, free of charge. For any further copies requested by the data subject, Renson may charge a reasonable fee based on administrative costs.

23.4 Where You make a request by electronic means, and unless otherwise requested by the data subject, the information shall be provided in a commonly used electronic form.

23.5 Where requests are manifestly unfounded or excessive, in particular because of their repetitive character, Renson may either:

- charge a reasonable fee taking into account the administrative costs of providing the information or communication or taking the action requested; or
- refuse to act on the request.

23.6 Where Renson has reasonable doubts concerning the identity of the natural person making the request referred to in articles 16 to 22, Renson may request the provision of additional information necessary to confirm the identity of the data subject.

E. Transfers of personal data

24. Location of processing

24.1 Unless otherwise stated, Your personal data will be processed in the Country of the registered offices of Renson (see art. 5) or another location within the European Union.

25. Transfer to third countries or international organisations

25.1 There will be no transfer of your personal data outside the European Union.

26. Appropriate or suitable safeguards for data transfers

26.1 In view of articles 24 and 25 of this Privacy Notice, there is no need for appropriate or suitable safeguards for data transfers to third countries or international organisations.

F. Complaints

27. Complaint handling by Renson

27.1 If You wish to file a complaint, You can do so through the communication channels provided in art. 6.1.

27.2 Renson shall provide You information on action taken on a request under section D. Your rights as a data subject of this Privacy Notice without undue delay and in any event within one month of receipt of the request. That period may be extended by two further months where necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of the requests. Renson shall inform You of any such extension within one month of receipt of the request, together with the reasons for the delay.

27.3 If Renson does not take action on Your request, Renson shall inform You without delay and at the latest within one month of receipt of Your request, of the reasons for not taking action.

28. Filing a complaint with a supervisory authority

28.1 If You consider that the processing of Your data infringes the Privacy Regulation or Privacy Act and without prejudice to any other administrative or judicial remedy, You have the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority, in particular in the Member State of Your habitual residence, place of work or place of the alleged infringement.

28.2 The supervisory authority of Your habitual residence can be found here: <https://secure.edps.europa.eu/EDPSWEB/>
